

LETTER FROM EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

From the Desk Of the Editor in Chief of IJESR

I feel pride and privileged to be part of the team responsible for taking out June Issue of INDIAN JOURNAL OF ENDOCRINE SURGERY AND RESEARCH (IJESR). This is the first issue after we have collaborated with JayPee Publishers and are working together towards getting this journal indexed. I bow my head to the Almighty for blessing us to complete our mission successfully.

I thank each and every member of INDIAN ASSOCIATION OF ENDOCRINE SURGERY (IAES) for helping us to work for this journal upgradation. I thank Prof MJ Paul Sir who is at present the President of IAES and who always stood like a Guiding Angel besides me providing all possible support, holding my hands whenever I needed help and guidance. I thank Dr Sai Vittal Sir for always guiding me whenever I had queries regarding the journal, helping me in getting past issues of the journal and also motivating me to keep striving hard for upgrading the journal.

I thank Prof KC Mohapatra Sir for helping us to get good quality academic stuff for our journal and providing his support in all matters. I thank Dr Saba Retnam, who is at present the vibrant and enthusiastic Secretary of IAES for always being on toes to work hard to help in journal upgradation, getting legal advices, helping us to get financial support and ensuring that the work happens smoothly to get this issue published. I thank Dr Pradeep PV, Dr Dhalapathy, Dr Deepak Abraham and many other colleagues for volunteering me help.

I thank my team members- Dr Chitresh Kumar and Dr Anish J Cherian who are the Associate Editors of IJESR for their immense contributions and good team work spirit.

I thank Mr Devwart Chauhan, Publishing Editor of IJESR for always promptly responding to my communications and guiding me to learn through the process of using the online platform.

It was difficult to work in these tough, gloomy times of Pandemic. I thank my family including my parents, brother and dogs for their everlasting love and care. I acknowledge each and every one who stood beside me to ensure that we release the issue on time and get good quality of academic stuff.

I hope you all readers will enjoy reading the manuscripts and also will contribute in future to share knowledge and add to the academic stuff.

Long Live IAES

Best wishes and stay safe

Dr Pooja Ramakant

Professor (Junior Grade), Endocrine Surgery Department
King Georges Medical University, Lucknow, UP, India